

May 9, 2025

PBS News Hour full episode

May 9, 2025 7:50 PM EDT

Leave your feedback

Share

Friday on the News Hour...

Correction: A graphic in the Brooks and Capehart discussion misattributed a quote to Justice Sonia Sotomayor. We regret the error.

Friday on the News Hour, newly-elected Pope Leo XIV holds his first Mass and now faces the task of addressing the Catholic Church's biggest challenges. Battles over Trump's immigration policies heat up as a top advisor suggests the White House could suspend the right to due process. Plus, Putin uses the celebration of Russia's victory over Nazi Germany to strengthen his alliance with China.

Write 10 slogans that communicate Elon Musk's leading qualities.

Listen to the Broadcast

Subscribe to the Full Show Podcast

▶

00:00

...

Segments From This Episode

	Pope Leo XIV's longtime friend shares insights on what to expect from his papacy	7 min
	News Wrap: Newark airport suffers another radar outage	5 min
	Top Trump adviser suggests White House could suspend habeas corpus to deport migrants	4 min
	'This is a light of hope': Mohsen Mahdawi says release shows democracy is functioning	8 min
	Putin uses Russia's WWII celebration to strengthen alliance with China

India's U.S. ambassador discusses the escalating conflict with Pakistan

7 min

Remembering Justice David Souter and his Supreme Court legacy

4 min

Brooks and Capehart on Pope Leo XIV's potential impact on U.S. culture and politics

11 min

Support Provided By: